

50 Years Of Postal Service Drawing To Close
For Mrs. Brodhead, Retiring Gap Postmaster

By N. E. BIRD

DELAWARE WATER GAP—The resignation of Mrs. Thomas Brodhead, the former Edna Transue, as postmaster here effective Saturday, Oct. 30, after 50 years in the postal service, brings to attention the fact that the Gap post-office has had two women postmasters in its history.

Miss Eugenia Brodhead was the other one. When her father, Frank Brodhead, was postmaster near the turn of the century, with the office in his general store down by Cherry Creek bridge, Eugenia assisted him. When changes in political parties necessitated change of postmaster, Miss Brodhead became postmaster.

Many attempts were made to rob the office in its frame building; but Miss Brodhead jauntily carried the monies home each night in a small, unlocked satchel, and was never disturbed.

Mrs. Thomas Brodhead, the retiring postmaster, has been fortunate also in that her office has never been molested, though when she was a school girl it was robbed several times and the last attempt foiled by postmaster Millard Hauser. He shot one of the thieves, a young fellow with a bottle of nitroglycerine in his hip pocket. The thief died from the bullet wounds.

The present iron-barred office had a minor calamity in that soon after it was built, in 1912, a wind storm—not then honored by a girl's name—took off half the new roof. Lifted as a whole sheet, it soon was replaced.

Another similarity in postmaster-ship is that both Miss Eugenia Brodhead and Mrs. Thomas Brodhead have a record of efficiency; but the latter one had far more mail to handle and more red tape to keep from snarling.

Trained to the work in the early 1900s—when all the famous old hotels were operating here and thousands of summer guests were receiving and mailing out thousands of postcards and letters, all to be handstamped, Mrs. Brodhead has seen many ebbs and flows of business. Now with the Shawnee Press and Waring Choral School located in the Gap, there is much heavy mail to handle.

The early postmaster, Miss Eugenia Brodhead, married Dr. Herbert Voorhees of Scranton. Tradition has it that she was so occupied with happy plans fostered by

Mrs. Thomas Brodhead

Dan Cupid that she forgot to notify the government of her resignation; and there was a scurry to replace her when she stepped out of the postoffice for the last time. The present Mrs. Thomas Brodhead also married during her tenure of office, but did not lose interest in her business career nor time from her public service.

Talking to Mrs. Brodhead, one realizes that the 50 years as clerk, assistant postmaster and then postmaster, seem like a short time as she looks back. So many details changed as parcel post, CODs, registered mail, money orders and other new mail methods came along, she scarcely had time to notice the changes from groups, gathered in the early Main St. office at each mail delivery, and crowds jamming it at the last night mail, to these days when there are fewer deliveries of mail by truck and a hurried man or woman hops from an auto to call for mail or school children clamor for letters to take home.

Mrs. Brodhead has been a favorite with the children and even tiny tots are given "mail" by her—though it be but an old, out-of-date advertisement—to carry home proudly. She has heard the joys and anxieties of folks for 50 years and will miss such daily glimpses into other lives; the smothered cry when word of death comes, the impatient waiting for news from the absent soldier boy, the honeymoon cards that drift home to parents, the Christmas or birthday packages that she too notes missing for patrons when death has claimed a sender.

She can frequently trace the aging of correspondents as she hands out letters with the handwriting growing ever more wavering, or can share family pride

Campaign Flight To Take
Ike To Four States FridayAmerican Navy
Rated Tops;
Russia Gains

LONDON, Thursday, Oct. 28 (AP)—The U. S. Navy is a colossal fighting force equal to all the other major navies of the world put together, an authoritative naval publication said today.

But Russia is building up "substantial forces" of cruisers, destroyers and submarines, it added. The latest edition of Jane's Fighting Ships, a standard reference work of the navies of the world, said the U. S. Navy of 5,000 vessels not only is the largest peacetime fleet ever maintained by any country, but appears to be adopting scientific advances somewhat more rapidly than any other navy.

Russia was rated superior to the United States only in numbers of submarines, Jane's estimated the Red underwater fleet totals between 370 and 400 vessels, as against the U. S. Navy's 200.

A large number of long-range Russian submarines "are now known to have been completed and commissioned for service recently," Jane's said.

These are of two types. One has a displacement of 2,000 tons, a speed of 20 knots and a range of 20,000 miles. The other has 1,600 tons displacement, a speed of 17 knots and a range of 13,000 miles.

The larger class has been seen in the Baltic and the Far East, Jane's said. It estimated they are being built at the rate of 18 to 20 a year. The 1,600-ton subs spotted in the Far East were reported being constructed in shipyards throughout the Soviet Union.

Russia also is "now capable of a considerable mine-laying effort," Jane's said.

Turning to the latest scientific and engineering developments, Jane's said the closer cooperation recently agreed upon between Britain and the United States should accelerate the development of guided missile ships.

Salerno Flood Toll Mounts

SALERNO, Italy, Oct. 27 (AP)—Mud-caked workers struggled wearily in darkness tonight in an effort to restore normal life to the Salerno area, devastated by Italy's worst flood disaster. Officials said the final death toll may reach 300.

Soldiers and firemen exhausted by nearly 48 hours of continuous labor dug through the ruins of homes, seeking bodies of the missing.

Coast guard boats fished some bodies out of Salerno Gulf, adding to the steadily mounting death toll taken by the flash floods and landslides that struck without warning late Monday night and early yesterday.

Officials said 281 persons were killed in the disaster and 190 others still were missing.

Show Faith
In Youth By Aiding Chest

IT'S NOT enough to have faith in the youth of your community. Without the right place to go, the good things to do, the guidance of civic-minded persons and the desire to become good citizens, the best child in town may take the wrong turn at some point in his life.

You can guard against this in your own family, in your own neighborhood and in your community by supporting the Community Chest.

This year 41 percent of the Chest's total goal of $66,529 will go to Youth Service agencies such as the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, the YMCA and the Salvation Army.

Each provides service to YOUR child and YOUR community which no other source can offer.

Support Community Chest and the young men and women of Monroe County. Give as much, as soon as you possibly can.

Two Navy Planes
Reported Missing

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 27 (AP)—Two Navy planes, each carrying three men, disappeared while engaged in antisubmarine practice 18 miles southeast of Virginia Beach last night.

A day-long search by ships and planes turned up tragic evidence on the surface of the ocean—an unexplained life raft from one of the planes, debris and oil slick.

Girl Suffers
Injuries When Hit By Car

TOBYHANNA—A girl was injured when struck by the right front headlight of a car here at 4:45 p.m., yesterday, according to Mount Pocono State police.

Pfc. Robert Latzo said the girl was Patricia Panna, 11, of this village, who was crossing Route 402 with her sister, Barbara, 13. Latzo said Patricia was the only one injured. She suffered face and right knee injuries, and a contusion of the right hip. She was treated at the office of Dr. E. O. Hadrick, Mount Pocono.

Driver was Henry Foster, 47, Tobyhanna, a wire repairman at the Signal Corps Depot, who was driving east on Route 402 when the accident occurred.

Police said the girls crossed from between two cars halted in a line of traffic, and emerged in front of Foster's car.

Wood Pledges Cooperation
In Adopting Sound Program

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP)—Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, Republican candidate for governor, said tonight that, if elected next Tuesday, he "expects the help of the Legislature to adopt a sound fiscal program."

He added that he would in "no way attempt to dictate to the Legislature on the course of action it should take."

However, he explained, he would "reserve the right as head of the state government—in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution—to make recommendations which I deem in the common interest of the taxpayers."

In a speech prepared for an Allentown rally Wood restated his stand on the one per cent retail sales tax passed by the 1953 Legislature.

"There will be no 'must' legislation," he said, "although I will insist that for every dollar spent in services a dollar in revenue be provided to foot the bill."

He said he was sure the next state administration will need a Legislature prepared to cooperate in the adoption of a program that will continue what he called Pennsylvania's economic and efficient government.

"The very best way to assure enactment of such a program is through a Republican State Senate and a Republican State House of

Despondent Texan Detonates Bomb, Blowing
Self To Bits And Wrecking Court Building

EDINBURG, Tex., Oct. 27 (AP)—An elderly man—despondent since a dynamite blast injury in 1930—detonated a dynamite bomb in his hands today and blew himself to pieces on the second floor of the Hidalgo County Courthouse here.

The explosion wrecked the second floor of the courthouse, tore marble slabs off the walls, broke windows on two floors and shook downtown Edinburg. The five-story courthouse costing 1½ million dollars was dedicated only last summer.

Several hundred persons were in the building at the time of the explosion at 10:04 a.m. Two women suffered severe shock. Minor cuts and bruises were reported to other persons.

The man was Harry Miller, about 60, of Realitos, Tex. He was an oilfield worker who was in court today for a decision on his suit for damages from injuries received in a dynamite explosion in September 1930.

Miller had taken an elevator to the second floor of the courthouse, gone for a moment into the 92nd District courtroom and then walked into the hall where he stood before a mirror beside the elevator and detonated the blast.

The elevator girl, Dinora Carrejo, about 22, had gone back downstairs. She heard the blast, went back to the second floor, opened her door and there saw the man's decapitated head in front of her. She fainted, later awoke screaming and went into severe shock.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Tom Wingert said he was about 20 to 40 feet from the scene of the blast. He said he saw Miller standing there with a package in his arms, just shaking his head.

"The next thing I knew there was a terrific blast," Wingert said. "I was knocked flat. I got up and started running but slipped on the man's leg. The corridor was filled with thick blue-black smoke."

Chester Blodgett, an attorney for Miller, said the man had been despondent since his injury.

Blodgett said Miller, a native of Buffalo, N.Y., had been in the Coast Guard and had been in this area of south Texas several years. He has a wife in Realitos, a small town in Duval County, some 100 miles north of Edinburg, which is a city of some 13,000 near the Texas-Mexico border.

All concerned said there were no political implications in the explosion.

Hopes To Stir
More Interest
In Elections

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)

President Eisenhower tonight decided to make in eleventh-hour, flying campaign foray aimed at stirring voters out of what he called apathy and winning a Republican victory in next Tuesday's contest for control of Congress.

The White House announced that he would fly on Friday to Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Ky., and Wilmington, Del., addressing airport crowds at each of the cities. He will leave here early Friday morning and return Friday night.

The cities will be visited in the order named, but the exact time of the President's arrival will not be announced until tomorrow. However, Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) said at Detroit that the President would reach there about noon.

Delaware GOP leaders said the President is expected to reach Wilmington at 4:30 p.m. Friday, stay about 20 minutes and then take off for Washington after a speech at the airport, about five miles out of the city.

Each of the four states the President will visit has a Senate race that could hold the key to control of the next Senate. Two of them, Ohio and Michigan, also elect governors. A total of 50 House seats are at stake in the four states.

In Ohio Rep. George H. Bender (R) is in a hot battle with Sen. Thomas A. Burke (D) for the remainder of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's term. In Michigan's Senate contest, Sen. Ferguson, Republican Policy Committee chairman in the Senate, is being pushed by Democrat Patrick V. McNamara.

Kentucky features a battle of stalwarts with most observers giving former Vice President Alben W. Barkley (D) the edge to beat Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R).

In little Delaware, Sen. J. Allen Frear (D) is challenged by Rep. Herbert B. Warburton (R).

At his news conference today, Eisenhower expressed himself as somewhat puzzled over what he called voter apathy. With a flash of anger, he rejected any idea that "disenchantment" with his administration is responsible. On the contrary, he said, his advisers tell him one cause is too much satisfaction—the people have got what they wanted under the GOP.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President's trip Friday would be made in the presidential plane, the Columbine, but that the Republican National Committee would pay for all expenses connected with it.

Eisenhower had wanted, Hagerty said, to use a chartered commercial plane, but the Secret Service and Air Force objected for security reasons.

The sites for the speeches were selected by the Republican National Committee, Hagerty continued, and Republican candidates from neighboring states will be invited to the rallies.

A reporter asked Hagerty whether these states were selected because Republican senatorial candidates were "in trouble."

The press secretary replied: "I do not admit your premise." He said the sites were selected because they are more or less centrally located and because—except for Kentucky—the President has not entered these areas during the campaign period.

Eisenhower's decision to make the trip means that he will have waged one of the most active off-year campaigns of any president in recent times.

He already has visited, and made speeches of varying political emphasis, in Montana, Oregon, Washington, New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Colorado, California and Indiana.

Political Plans
Denied By Truman

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 27 (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman reiterated today he had no future political ambitions.

He made his latest statement to that effect at a luncheon honoring Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr., whose term is up two years from now.

"It has been reported that I might be a candidate for United States senator next time against Sen. Hennings," he said. "That has no foundation at all. I am not a candidate for any public office."

Ike Agrees
With Winnie

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)

President Eisenhower's first news conference here since mid-August yesterday covered a wide range of topics from politics to the new Russian nuclear tests. They included:

1. Went along with Winston Churchill and said he's against any Big Four meeting on Germany until after the recent agreements at Paris have been ratified.

2. Declared the public is perfectly and splendidly protected by the proposed Dixon-Yates power contract. But he said he's against making the contract public until Congress has passed on it. He favored disciplining whoever gave a copy to the St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

3. Denied knowledge that—as a reporter put it—GOP campaigners are harping on the Communists-in-government issue.

4. Said he had been informed that the drop in unemployment, which he reported Monday night, signified an upturn in the whole national economy, not just a seasonal rise.

5. Said he wouldn't think the new series of Soviet atomic explosions—reported yesterday by the Atomic Energy Commission—pointed to any change in U. S. Russian rates of atomic development.

6. Dropped what looked like a hint he'll name a sitting judge to the Supreme Court in place of the late Robert H. Jackson. Eisenhower said that—except for the chief justice—he thinks it a good practice to promote judges from the lower courts.

Woman Believed
Penniless Carries
$16,000 In Purse

BRAMPTON, ONT., Oct. 27 (AP)

When Mrs. Alice Barlow, a 78-year-old harricane-lazel refugee, applied for admission to the local old people's home officials thought she was destitute.

Then in an old leather purse among her belongings, an official noticed a bulge in the lining.

"Just stuffing I sewed in," she said. But the stuffing proved to be $16,000 in $100 bills. Also there was a bank book with more than $4,000 entered.

"I was saving for my old age and for a trip to England," she said, "but I didn't think I had enough money."

She said she hadn't put all the money in the bank because she was afraid of bank robbers.

Labor Leaders Note Seasonal
Drop In Employment As Other
Half Of Prosperity Story

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27 (AP)—AFL and CIO leaders lashed out today at Secretary of Labor Mitchell's claim of national prosperity and accused him of dodging economic facts in trying to get workers to vote Republican.

Mitchell fired back in a Labor Department statement saying that when the job situation was considerably darker in early 1950 the labor leaders did not criticize the Democrats.

The Democratic national chairman, Stephen A. Mitchell, also got into the argument with a charge that President Eisenhower did not tell the whole story about employment and unemployment in his Monday night speech.

The Democratic leader said in a statement the President did not disclose that there were 4,000 fewer people working in October than in the preceding month. Mitchell said this shows the unemployment situation has continued to slip backward.

AFL President George Meany and Chairman Emil Rieve of the CIO Economic Policy Committee put out separate statements saying Secretary of Labor Mitchell, in a nationwide radio and television broadcast last night, stressed an October drop in unemployment but failed to mention that employment, too, had declined seasonally.

They also said the secretary neglected to say that the jobless number twice as many as a year ago. Meany said Mitchell presented "a rosy but inaccurate picture" of the job situation and Rieve spoke critically of "a sudden pre-election sympathy for the jobless."

Secretary Mitchell said it was "regrettable that political considerations" have impelled Meany and Rieve "to attack an administration which has reduced unemployment when they stood so silent" in 1950, a time he said, when there were 4,600,000 unemployed and President Truman said three to five million unemployed would be supportable.

"The facts are there but unfortunately two leaders of organized labor have chosen to ignore them," Mitchell said. "They apparently attach no significance to the fact that we are today at peace, that factories are hiring, that wages are at record high levels and that the actual take home pay of American workers is more than ever before."

The vote came at the end of more than two weeks of general debate. The resolution was sponsored by the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union. It was the first time since 1946 that the West and Russia had agreed unanimously to sponsor a resolution.

The action means that the General Assembly certainly will approve the resolution and the Disarmament Commission will send to a sub-committee made up of these five powers all projects for disarmament now pending in the U. N.

Weakest Of Doucet
Quadruplets Dies

BATHURST, N. B., Oct. 27 (AP)—Maria, smallest of the quadruplet children born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Doucet nine days ago, died last night.

Mother Superior St. Therese, administrator of the Hotel Dieu Hospital where the children have been kept since birth, said announcement was held up until today so the father could be reached.

Maria was the weakest of the quads—three girls and a boy—born Oct. 18.

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Oct. 27 (AP)—Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic nominee for governor, said tonight that if any industry operated its business the Way Pennsylvania's Republican state government is run "bankruptcy would follow inevitably."

"And isn't that just about what we have in Harrisburg today?" Leader asked in a prepared address.

"Only recently, the financial geniuses of the Fine-Wood administration had to stretch the state's credit to the breaking point by borrowing an additional 90 million dollars in tax anticipation notes."

"Who, if not industry, does the Republican leadership anticipate taxing to pay off the mountain of state debt we already have and which Lloyd Wood says he will avoid if he is governor?"

"How will he avoid it? By pretending it doesn't exist just as he has pretended Gov. Fine doesn't exist?"

Leader said that if he is victorious next Tuesday over Republican candidate Wood he will "turn the auditors loose" on the state's books.

"We will determine, at long last, what is actually needed in the way of tax dollars," he said. "And my guess is that we are going to uncover a shocking mess."

Spoils vs. Service

During any congressional election campaign such as the one now drawing to a close, there's always a hue and cry about the in's wrecking the morale of the thousands of federal government workers and kicking out competent men and women to make room for political appointees. Elect us, say the out's, and we'll change all of this.

As the oratory bangs around from charge to counter-charge, the average citizen tells himself that working for the federal government must be like living on top of a volcano. You never know when an election is going to come along and blow you right out of your job.

There was a time, long ago, when this was true, when the spoils system ranged from the top right down to the smallest job on the government payroll. Civil Service changed that, and did it years ago. Not that political parties still don't thrive on patronage. They do, and there still are too many occasions and there will continue to be too many times, when the measure of a government job is not so much ability and qualification as political affiliation and activity.

But it's not nearly as dark a picture as we plain citizens are led to believe when the campaigns rage away. For thousands of men and women, government employ is a career. They stay and work through one political party's regime into the next. It is the career worker who really keeps the machinery of government turning without a stalling letup when offices change hands.

Former President Hoover earlier this month, as you probably recall reading, made a return visit for the first time to the Department of Commerce where he had served as secretary in the late 1920's, just before he went to the White House. It was a home-coming after 26 years, and yet there to shake his hand were 800 federal employees who had been with the department during his tenure as secretary. Twenty-six years and 12 other Cabinet secretaries later, they still were there—a mute testimonial to the fact that while the spoils system still is practiced it is no overpowering thing.

Pass the Turkey

Many a parent was startled two years ago when children came from school complaining that they were getting tired of eating turkey every day for lunch.

There was such a surplus of turkeys that year the Government bought up a lot of them and gave them to the school-lunch program.

That hasn't happened this year, but we do have another large surplus of turkeys. So the price has gone down to the lowest point in 12 years, and apparently will stay low for the winter.

Which is a good reason for buying one now. There's nothing prettier and few things better to eat. And the price has made turkeys one of the best bargains in the stores, no longer a luxury for holiday dinners.

Besides, we should eat up our food surpluses if we can. That's much cheaper than having the Government buy them up with our tax money.

George Sokolsky Says...

British Will Not Give Up Cyprus, Because Turkey Will File Claim

A new term has come into international politics, Enosis, and it means the transference of allegiance of a people on an ethnic basis.

Self-determination usually has a connotation of separation, of the establishing of a new country, as, for instance, Finland separating from Russia, but enosis does not demand separation. Cyprus is now British; the enosis movement in Cyprus calls not for freedom but for shifting that island from Great Britain to Greece because most of the people are Greeks. The minority are Turks, but some Cypriots, while regarding themselves as Greeks, are probably of Turkish origin. Who can tell what is the ethnic origin of anyone in the Mediterranean melting pot? In reality, the basis for enosis in Cyprus is not ethnic but religious. Those who belong to the Greek Orthodox Church consider themselves Greeks whether their ancestors were Turkish, Syrian or Egyptian. Those who are Moslem are accepted as Turks.

The Communists, who are very numerous, are mostly Greeks. It is the Communist factor in this situation that makes the government of Greece less than enthusiastic about the transference of title to the island, although it would be politically inadvisable for it not to give the impression of desiring that all Greeks should be affiliated with Greece. Greece does not want more Communists than she already has.

Geographically, Cyprus lies off the coast of Turkey and Syria. Its possessor could bottle up the whole of southern and eastern Turkey's outlets on the Mediterranean. In the present relations between Greece and Turkey, it is unfortunate that the question of Cyprus should be raised, but the Kremlin thinks of everything. The master-minds of confusion will do anything to embarrass Turkey.

The nature of the enosis movement may be judged by the following paragraph from a "clean" destination broadcast station, Free Greece, delivered on August 4:

"It is clear to the people of Cyprus and Greece that the treacherous policy of Papagos and the whole Americanocracy on the Cyprus issue encouraged the English colonists and imperialists. It is apparent that the whole exploitation of the Cyprus question by the Marshall was directed at hiding his treachery to Cyprus. The Rally, which converted the whole of Greece into an American Cyprus, can only perpetrate (sic) (possibly means perpetrate) treacheries with regard to the Cyprus issue."

Cyprus, the third largest island in the Mediterranean, has had a long history of the mingling of peoples, going back some 5,000 years. It has been held by Phoenicians, Assyrians, Egyptians, Persians, Greeks, the Romans, Venetians, the Turks and, since 1878, by the British, although it was conquered by Richard the Lion-Hearted as far back as 1191. The course of Empire has crossed over it in all the shiftings of power. The question of Cyprus is now before the United Nations, imperiling the alliance among Greece,

Turkey and Yugoslavia which is so important to the American defense program. The future of Cyprus remains uncertain because Great Britain is opposed to relinquishing it and Turkey is opposed to its becoming part of Greece, and Greece does not really want it at present, but Greek nationalism and public opinion has been stirred.

Cyprus is therefore an explosive situation because the Greek Orthodox and the Communists have joined on enosis. To show how such things can develop, last August a group of 21 reserve officers from Pargos, in Southern Greece, marched 200 miles to Athens to deliver two phials of their blood as evidence of their resolve to give their lives for the liberation of Cyprus. Such emotionalism does not die down.

The British view was presented to the United Nations by Sir Pierson Dixon, permanent British delegate, who said:

"Cyprus is, of course, entirely within the domestic jurisdiction of the United Kingdom, and thus a territory in whose affairs the United Nations cannot intervene. We shall, therefore, oppose the inclusion of this item on the agenda, and I hope that good sense will prevail."

The British will not give up Cyprus and the United Nations will not even try to force such an eventual change because it is a fair guess that if the British showed any such intention, the Turks would claim Cyprus as essential to Turkey's existence. But enosis will not die down because the Kremlin will keep it alive. It is a way of stirring trouble between Greece and Turkey and that could be plenty of trouble.

From a most careful analysis of the election speeches, especially on TV and radio, he added, "I think each side blames the other for the high cost of good tickets to musical shows, gristle in beefsteak, earlobes trouble, summer rashes, abnormally high tides, crowded buses, the crime waves, panels which hide the automobile's rear wheels and make tire changing extra difficult, proxy fights, the small sized lobsters in shore dinners.

Men Are Human Beings Not Holes Punched in Cards

The businessmen of America will never regain their leadership until they realize that men are human beings and not holes punched in statistical cards.

That was the subject of an address made at the Rotary Club of Los Angeles a few days ago by Elisha Gray II, president of the Whirlpool Corporation.

The title of his speech was "A New Balance Sheet for Business," and in it he emphasized the thousand-year-old saying, "Man doth not live by bread alone."

"For the past 20 years big government and big labor have taken the center of the stage," he said, "while the businessman has been figuratively pushed into the wings."

He recalled how America's business leaders had been waging a bitter fight against such elementary ideas as workmen's compensation, social security and unemployment compensation. These social advances are now being taken for granted everywhere.

Gray pointed out that among the most important assets of a business, just as important as the dollar assets, are its employees. As a matter of fact, he thinks that workers are not only AN important asset but THE MOST IMPORTANT asset of them all.

Take the workers away from a plant, and what have you? Dead machinery. Dead buildings. A dead business.

It takes MEN to run machinery, and men and women to run an office. It takes human brains to make a business succeed and human enthusiasm to make it prosper.

And here is really why I am writing this column: Gray pointed out to his hearers that the most important factors in running a business are "the inherent dignity of the individual; man's instinct to be part of a group in which he can have genuine pride; his desire to be recognized."

That applies not only to business but to all life.

Go down to any Skid Row in America where you see the dismal failures winking along. What made them failures? Many reasons. But the thing you can SEE is that they have no more dignity; that they are no longer members of a useful group; that they are no longer being recognized as contributors to their community's welfare.

Whenever I see a husband and a wife quarreling and calling each other names I pity them—not so much for the hurt to their feelings, but for the fact that each quarrel takes a bit of the human dignity away from them.

Never break a person's spirit. Never deprive him of that one great possession which distinguishes the human from the animal—the power to walk erect and to look at the sky, conscious of the fact that MAN is the one being on earth that has been given the ability to think, to do, to create.

The other day I talked to a worker on a new skyscraper in New York. "Ain't she pretty?" he asked me. And the way he said it you'd have thought that he himself had designed that great building.

Yes, it takes more than dollars and cents to run a business or one's personal life.

Try and Stop Me

On their first trip abroad, a sudden storm made Mr. and Mrs. Schmuckase violently ill. To add to their discomfort, their young son Fenimore grew more obstreperous. Mrs. Schmuckase, finally moaned to her husband, "I wish you'd speak to Fenimore." Mr. Schmuckase, barely able to lift his head, murmured feebly, "Hello, Fenimore."

The judge frowned when he looked at the accused and demanded, "Haven't I seen that face of yours before?" "Indeed you have, your honor," said the defendant hopefully. "I gave your son violin lessons last winter."

"Ah, yes," recalled the judge and added, "Guilty."

"Now aren't you the Mrs. Murphy whose husband had the cramps?" mused Dr. Doobittle. "I hope the medicine I prescribed straightened him out." "That it did," nodded Mrs. Murphy grimly. "We buried him yesterday."

Robert S. Allen Reports

Defense Of Continentals Big Issue In New Congress

Washington, October 28 — The stage is already being set for one fateful battle in the next Congress, regardless of who controls it.

This is the life-and-death issue of what shall be done about a strengthening of the defenses of the country against the cataclysmic menace of jet planes and guided missiles armed with nuclear explosives.

Crux of this momentous controversy is an unannounced plan to increase continental defense funds by $2,000,000,000.

Irrespective of the outcome of next Tuesday's election, a decisive showdown on this determinedly demanded program is certain in the new Congress. Preparations for that are well underway in key Pentagon, scientific and congressional quarters.

The House Military Operations Subcommittee already has held one secret hearing on the matter. This preliminary backstage session was arranged by Representative John McCormack (D., Mass.), who may be the next majority leader of his chamber. Significantly he is working closely with Republicans both in the House and in the Pentagon. And aligned with this bi-partisan group are a number of leading scientists.

They include James R. Killian, Jr., head of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Dr. A. G. Hill, director of the famed Lincoln Laboratory, Lexington, Mass.

The opposition in this looming battle is equally impressive. Its leaders are Defense Secretary Wilson and Assistant Defense Secretary Donald Quarles, in charge of research and development. Their disapproval is based chiefly on the ground that the proposed heavy spending is excessive and contrary to contemplated budget cuts.

What Was Said: — Principal testimony at the secret Subcommittee hearing was by Dr. Hill and Trevor Gardner, Special Assistant for Research and Development to the Secretary of the Air Force.

Dr. Hill, who has been in the forefront of the long controversy over the continental defenses, made three key points:

The effectiveness of the country's protection against aerial attack can be doubled in the next few years by the proposed $2,000,000,000 program.

The fatal weakness of the existing defense system is the failure to use new devices and safeguards that have been developed but are being disregarded for lack of funds.

As a result of this, the country is highly vulnerable to the long-range jet bombers and other weapons the Russians already possess.

This sinister situation was particularly stressed by Representative McCormack in questioning Dr. Hill. Following are publishable highlights of this significant discussion from the stenographic transcript:

McCormack: "What have they got that can get through our defenses?"

Dr. Hill: "Jet bombers, missiles from submarines, certain other things."

McCormack: "Then in effect, we don't have much of a continental defense?"

Hill: "No, that is not wholly correct. Let me put it this way: If the Russians launched a low-level attack at night against New York, we would get very few of them. But if the Russians launched a raid at high altitude with their TU-4s in the daytime, we would get most of them."

McCormack: "Are our defense capabilities being improved fast enough, and if not, why not?"

Hill: "They are not in my opinion, and the reason is that not enough money is being spent for this purpose. I'm not talking about $10,000,000,000 a year. I'm talking common sense, like $2,000,000,000 over a period of years. But there is no doubt that we are lagging behind more and more all the time."

McCormack: "To get down to specific cases: Can we double our defenses by doubling our funds?"

Hill: "Very definitely. For every dollar added, you get an increment of 50 to 60 percent in defense. And when the enemy knows you have a defense system that will knock down more than 50 percent of his planes, then the enemy will think twice about sending his bombers where he knows he'll lose more than half of them in an attack."

Hill also stated that under the present plans it will take seven years before continental defenses reach the point where they have a 50 percent casualty potential.

"One of the main deficiencies in our defense system," explained Dr. Hill, "is that we have not appropriated money for a northern area warning line with adequate east and west extensions. Another failing is that we have not planned for an air battle distant from our population centers. It doesn't do any good to shoot down a bomber carrying nuclear weapons over one of our cities. As far as the enemy is concerned, that would still be a bull's-eye for him."

Hosiery Industry Problems

—by H. G. Heller

Nu-Maid Hosiery mill's cessation of operations here recently was accompanied by general explanation of matters affecting the industry here and elsewhere in the country. Now comes a study of the industry generally in the Pennsylvania region.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Pennsylvania, which just completed the study, notes:

"Over three miles of nylon yarn, most of it finer than the average human hair, go into a pair of full-fashioned hosiery. The product is fine, competition is fierce, and profits are falling."

The study points up the fact that mills in Pennsylvania and the North generally find the going especially rough. Profit margins have been shrinking in recent years "as a result of excessive productive capacity and industry-wide custom of operating two and three shifts."

It follows that heavy industries depressed prices of full-fashioned hosiery which are out of line with recent price trends "of apparel generally."

Involved in this competition, the survey shows, is rapid introduction of new machinery capable of knitting ever-finer hosiery of very sheer construction. Now advanced as far as humanly possible, this practice is being replaced by more efficient equipment — running at higher speeds.

Pennsylvania, since 1937, has declined from 44 to 27 per cent of the industry's annual output. There's been a general shift to the South which produces 62 per cent compared with 30 per cent in '37.

The bank's study showed further that competition in the women's full-fashioned hosiery industry, is intensified by the growing popularity of seamless nylons. Production here is on the increase.

In 1933 one pair of seamless nylons was produced for every eight pairs of full-fashioned.

Some firms making full-fashioned—which is knitted flat and seamed up the back, are installing circular-knit machinery to make seamless hosiery to supply both lines of products.

Both Parties Confident Of Victory In Assembly Contests

Senate Test Stiffest For Democrats

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27 (AP)—Democrats, driving for majorities in the Republican-controlled General Assembly, faced a stern task today in the Senate but are much more hopeful in the House, party officials said.

Although GOP leaders remained confident they would retain control in both houses, Rep. H. G. Andrews, Democratic floor leader in the House, predicted his party would take over in that branch of the Legislature regardless of whether it won the governorship next Tuesday.

"We should pick up some seats in counties where we haven't held any for many years," Andrews told a newsmen.

House Speaker Charles C. Smith (R-Phila.) meanwhile said due to reapportionment in 1953, Republicans should increase the narrow 110-98 margin they held in that last session.

This time, voters will choose representatives to fill 210 seats, since redistricting added two to the total. Twenty-five senators will be chosen, the other 25 holding their seats for another two years.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader in the Senate, said he is "confident" his party will pick up five more seats in the upper chamber. That still would give the Democrats only 23 of 50 seats.

Dent noted that two other senatorial races should be "close." In addition, Democrats might have the vote of Sen. John Carl Miller, Beaver County Republican who came out for the Democratic state ticket some weeks ago.

With less than a week to go before the election, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Senate president pro tempore, held to his previous prediction that Republicans will retain control of the chamber with "no question about it."

Democrats last controlled the House in 1941. Their last time in power in the Senate goes back to 1937, when they held a majority in both chambers under Gov. George H. Earle.

Of the 210 seats in the House, a 106 majority must be won to gain control. Republicans have 80 incumbents and Democrats 70.

In the Senate, Democrats must win 16 of the contested Senatorial seats to tie the GOP and 17 to gain control. Ten Republicans and eight Democrats are seeking reelection.

Of the remaining seven Senate seats to be filled, six now are held by Republicans and one by a Democrat. That is the seat of Sen. George M. Leader, now running for governor.

Sens. Montgomery F. Crowe (R—Monroe) and Fred P. Hare Jr. (R—Somerset) are missing from the Nov. 2 election list—Crowe to devote more time to his business and Hare because he accepted a post as administrative assistant to Gov. John S. Fine.

Three Republican House members are seeking Senate seats. They are Reps. John T. Van Sant (Lehigh) and Harold E. Flack (Luzerne) who in the primary defeated fellow GOP members and incumbent Sens. T. Newell Wood and Tilghman A. Freed respectively, and William Z. Scott (Carbon), seeking Crowe's place.

Outside Philadelphia, two House incumbents will be eliminated due to reapportionment. Democratic incumbent Michael J. Needham faces GOP incumbent J. Russell Phillips in Lackawanna County 2nd District while John F. Stank, Democrat, and Edward Dunn, Republican, both incumbents, face each other in Northumberland County 3rd.

WHO'D YOU LIKE TO PLAY WITH?—Linda Weber, 7, a second grader at Clearview School, ponders one of two key questions in "sociogram" testing yesterday while teacher Mrs. Wilmar Frisbie awaits answer. Aim is to determine which children seem to be rejected by mates and why... then work to alter the child's adjustment pattern. Entire school was "sociogrammed." (Staff Photo by Olwyler)

Sociogram Tests Conducted For Clearview Youngsters

A SIMPLE TEST called a "sociogram" will make it easier for Clearview School teachers to spot children rejected by their classmates. The ultimate aim, of course, is to try to end this rejection.

Sociograms are a comparatively new tool, said Rex Harding, Clearview principal, but have been used before in Monroe County.

Last year Clearview used sociograms for the first time on a few grades. The results were intriguing and informative, Harding said.

So much so that it was decided to work up sociograms for the entire school this year.

Yesterday, with teachers at desks throughout the hallway and corridors, the interviews were conducted.

The interview is the first step in the sociogram. The child sits down at the desk with his teacher. The teacher sees to it that an air of mutual confidence is built up in brief preliminary conversation.

Then she puts the first simple-sounding question: "With whom would you like to work in the classroom?"

The pupil gives a first, a second and a third choice.

"Well, if you were out on the playground... with whom would you most enjoy playing there?" the teacher asks next—or perhaps, "With whom would you like to sit on the bus when we take our trip next week?"

Again the child lists a first, second and third choice, and the interview is ended.

In a given class, Johnny Jones may be named first choice by eight classmates, and second choice by three. His score is 11.

Johnny is then classed as a much-chosen student or "star."

Alfred Brown is not listed as first, second or third choice by any of his classmates. Alfred shows up as a little-chosen student, or an "isolate."

The confidential information is tabulated on a graph. By studying this graph or sociogram, teachers discover who are the isolates and who are the stars in their classes.

As Harding explains it, if there are a large number of isolates in a given class, it might indicate there isn't much group spirit—and more experience should be provided in which several children work together.

Later there will be more interviews. In these follow-ups, teachers may learn some of the reasons that certain children have been rejected while others are especially popular.

She will then know the personal qualities which her students value highly, and those to which they pay no heed. The knowledge will make it easier for her to plan group experiences which develop the right qualities.

Harding says sociograms can't solve all a teacher's problems, but they take a giant step in that direction. A point in their favor is that sociograms stimulate the teachers themselves to think constantly about group and individual development.

Teachers are most concerned

Injunction Hearing Set For Today

HEARING ON the YMCA's injunction complaint against the Electrical Union will be at 10 this morning in county court.

Plaintiffs are the YMCA and Matthew Kline, electrical contractor on the Y construction project. They are represented by attorneys on the YMCA board, Arlington W. Williams, Alex L. Bensinger and James T. Kitson.

Presiding will be President Judge Fred W. Davis.

Defendants are Clarence Pipher Jr., the picket; Francis Lyon, union business agent; and Local 367 of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Maxwell R. Cohen, Stroudsburg, will serve as defendants' counsel.

Picketing by the Electrical Union started Oct. 5 in front of the half-finished YMCA building. Pipher was named as the picket in the Y's complaint.

Y directors met the day picketing started and instructed their attorneys to prepare injunctive action to end the new work stoppage.

The complaint was drawn up, presented to directors, signed, then filed at the courthouse Oct. 21. Judge Davis directed the preliminary hearing set for this morning.

The union is charged by the complaint with trying to coerce Kline into forcing his men to join the union.

It claims the picketing is an unlawful attempt to force the Y to breach its contract with non-union contractors Kline and Hanford L. Cleveland; and alleges that the electrical union's action is aimed at thwarting and defeating a court injunction which forbade the plumbers union from picketing the YMCA.

With the isolates. It's these youngsters who are most in need of help. In these cases, teachers may go into the home, seeking the vital aid of parents in bringing better adjustment to the child.

At the end of the year another sociogram will be done. The second one will provide a check on whether or not the year's effort to change the isolate has been successful.

To bring closer liaison between home and school, Harding says some conferences may be set up between parents and teachers.

The Soo Canal between Lake Superior and Lake Huron was built in 1855.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

It's a good thing that Halloween draws near. A few more nights of Halloweeners and the cupboard would be bare for sure. You start out with a generous hand-out and gradually taper off at the evening wears on until the late comers are left with nothing but the crumbs of cookies and the chocolates with the bottoms punched in.

Now there's a sort of universal failing of mankind. I suppose it's a carry over from childhood. There'd be a box of candy and there'd be the instructions "just one piece." Well, you wanted that piece to be a good one and not one of the creams which are never favorites with children.

So you'd push at the bottom with your thumb. If it squished it was a cream and back it went into its crinkled brown paper nest. If it didn't it was nuts or caramel and you ate it. Came the time though when a box of candy that looked fine from the top would be quite messy underneath.

To this day, I always pinch a chocolate first, which is sort of unhandy if it turns out to be a cherry cordial. And I know a man who always runs a thumb over a spoon before he uses it because one time in boyhood he somehow got a cod-liver oil spoon by mistake. That, too, can be embarrassing if his hostess catches him at it.

We all have our foibles, but aren't they fun?

"What in the name of goodness is that?" everyone asked as I tramped through the store yesterday carrying a pyramid of aluminum with a small black knob on top.

"It is," I retorted, "the answer to what to give someone for Christmas if you wish to baffle her—in a practical way, of course—at a budget price." "It is," I explained, "an Egg-Alarm."

"Come off it," ordered the more serious "and give! WHAT is it?" But those who are quick on the trigger just scoffed. "WHO is alarmed of an egg?" they wanted to know.

Well, I don't know of anybody who's exactly afraid of an egg... unless they have been on the receiving end of a rather old one hurled upon a vaudeville stage. But the fact remains, that this tiny and timely gadget is an Egg Alarm—like it or not.

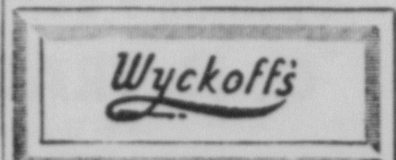

Actually, it's being widely advertised and promises to be a great little peace-maker in a family where Dad always complains that his breakfast egg is either too hard or too watery. An Egg Alarm resembles an elongated dunce cap, except that it is of metal, and has a brim. The brim has six slashes—presumably because it is fashioned to hold six eggs, or less if you desire. At the one side, there are markings that read, from bottom up: Very Soft, 1-2, 3-4, 5-6; Soft, 1-2, 3-4, 5-6, and Medium, 1-2, 3-4, 5-6.

When you prepare breakfast, this contrivance, with the eggs, is set into a 2½ or 3-quart saucpan of cold tap water drawn level with the line telling which type of egg you prefer. Then you forget about the whole thing, and concentrate on squeezing oranges, stirring the oatmeal or scrubbing the children.

You can count on the Egg Alarm to do the rest. When the eggs are ready, it will begin to whistle in the same insistent manner as your tea kettle. That's all... It whistles while you work, and when you serve the eggs they are done just right.

It costs $2.50 plus tax in our gadget department, and no really well run home will dare to be without one. Anyway, they're cute and intriguing. In a pinch, you could set one in a saucer and put a few tiny plants around the edge. As a conversation piece this couldn't be beat.

And if you don't know how to take my little treatise, just chalk it up to the mood I'm in. There are lots of people whose lives will never be complete without an Egg Alarm.

School Unification Topic Discussed In Poplar Valley

POPLAR VALLEY—The Poplar Valley section of Stroud Township had its chance to discuss the proposed school union of Stroud Township, Delaware Water Gap and Stroudsburg at a meeting Monday night at the Poplar Valley Social Hall.

As each section has its peculiar problems in regard to the school, so the residents of that area had their special questions. Present to start the discussion was Albert Quigley, Stroud Township school director from the Valley. Raymond Harding, principal of the Clearview School, outlined the educational advantages of union.

Others who helped answer questions were Raymond Allegar, Stroud school board member; Robert Hawik, a resident of Stroud Township and industrial arts teacher at the high school; Mrs. Lester Katz, Stroud Township resident, and Edwin Buck, president of the Clearview PTA.

Pamphlets listing the advantages of union were distributed, and questions from the audience asked for clarification of the various advantages listed: Transportation, financial and educational.

The majority seemed to approve of a closer working relationship with the high school. They were a little doubtful of the change in the elementary set-up, since they are enthusiastic over the facilities at Clearview and wondered whether their elementary pupils would be getting something just as good if they were transferred to another school. Discussion continued to a late hour over cups of coffee served by Mrs. Donald Reish.

She is a member of the local Presbyterian Church, a contributor to every community project, a member of the DAR and Water Gap folk are voicing deep regret that she plans to leave the community. She resides now in a white bungalow on a triangle of land between Glenwood Ave. and Foxtown Hill Road; but has purchased a new home near Sarasota, Fla., where she will rest from her years of strenuous, unrelenting labor.

She will be accompanied there by her sister, Mrs. Mary Donlin, and followed by the well wishes of everyone in the village of Delaware Water Gap.

as absent grandchildren learn to change from crudely printed addressing of mail to neat writing.

In addition to her steady, efficient service in the postoffice and the many little ways she has found to assist elderly and youthful patrons, Mrs. Brodhead served for years as a member of the school board and its secretary, until being postmaster required her resignation from such office.

She is a member of the local Presbyterian Church, a contributor to every community project, a member of the DAR and Water Gap folk are voicing deep regret that she plans to leave the community. She resides now in a white bungalow on a triangle of land between Glenwood Ave. and Foxtown Hill Road; but has purchased a new home near Sarasota, Fla., where she will rest from her years of strenuous, unrelenting labor.

She will be accompanied there by her sister, Mrs. Mary Donlin, and followed by the well wishes of everyone in the village of Delaware Water Gap.

Cavaliers Name Kupiszewski, Palmisano As Co-Captains

Veterans Win Election By Large Margin

BOB "RED" Kupiszewski and Mike Palmisano, star halfback and tackle respectively for East Stroudsburg High School's football team, were elected co-captains of the squad for the balance of the current campaign.

The election of Kupiszewski and Palmisano, both three-year varsity veterans, was by an almost unanimous margin.

Captain Jack Kist announced that the election took place Tuesday night, but in the future a captain or co-captains will be elected the night before the Thanksgiving Day Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg football game. In this manner the new captains can take over from the old field leaders before the season becomes history.

Kupiszewski, a senior, holds down the left halfback position for the Cavaliers and is currently the number one scorer on the club. He has tallied eight touchdowns and added two extra points thus far in the present campaign for a total of 50 points.

One of the extra points was scored on a run and another on a pass.

Palmisano, currently in the midst of his final year of eligibility although he is only a junior, has added 10 extra points from place-kicks and has been a standout on defense. He has been hampered by injuries in the past two games.

Both Kupiszewski and Palmisano are above average students and just missed making the honor roll during the first marking period this year.

Army Tops In East

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Army's Black Knights of the Hudson moved far in front in the weekly ratings of the Lambert Trophy Committee today with 964 points out of a possible 1,000.

The trophy, symbolic of the Eastern football championship, was won by Army last year for the sixth time in 18 seasons.

Trailing the Cadets are Navy, Boston College and fast-climbing Pitt.

Colgate and Yale are tied for fifth followed by Penn State, Bucknell, Delaware and Boston University. This is the first time in the 18 years of Lambert ratings that Bucknell and Delaware have been rated so high.

State Favored Over Penn

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (AP)—A strong Penn State team meets a down-trodden Penn eleven Saturday in a nationally televised football game that should involve a lot of one-way traffic.

Most of the movement on Franklin Field is expected to be toward whatever goal Penn is defending at the moment.

The contest is the NCAA game of the week over the ABC TV network at 2 p.m.

Campanella Out Of Hospital

BROOKLYN, Oct. 22 (AP)—The phone rang in the Brooklyn Dodgers' office today and the voice on the other end said, "This is the most valuable player in the National League in 1955."

That was how the Dodgers' front office learned officially that Roy Campanella was out of the hospital. Campanella underwent an operation on his left hand at Queens Memorial Hospital, Oct. 20. The veteran catcher was most optimistic about regaining the use of all the muscles in the hand that handicapped him so much during the past season.

Hasty Road Looms As Favorite

BOSTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Hasty Road, the big money winning star of the Hasty House Farm's Stable, loomed today as a favorite in tomorrow's $50,000-added Yankee Handicap at Suffolk Downs in a strong field of sophomores.

Hasty Road, winner of $436,557 in less than two years of campaigning, is top-weighted at 124 pounds in the field of 10 three-year-olds for the mile and a furlong test. It is the first New England visit for the Preakness winner.

Running as an entry with his famous stablemate will be Sen O'Erin, totting 110 pounds.

The one figured to give Hasty Road the most trouble is Chevalier from the Foxcatcher Farms of Willie duPont.

Blind Boy Shows Speed In Century

WORCESTER, England, Oct. 22 (AP)—A blind schoolboy sprinted 100 yards in 11 seconds while his classmates clapped and shouted from the end of the track.

The boy, George Bull, 19, got direction from the noise made by classmates ahead of him. He ran on a cinder track here yesterday.

American League Meets Today In Effort To Decide Where A's Will Perform Next Season

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—The American League meets tomorrow to try to decide once and for all whether the Athletics will stay in Philadelphia or move to Kansas City.

First item of business at the special meeting will be a vote on approval of an eight-man syndicate of Philadelphia businessmen as new owners of the A's.

The House of Mack, Connie and his two sons, Roy and Earle, have signed the papers for the transfer of their stock to the syndicate in a deal involving approximately four million dollars. The money is supposed to be in escrow.

Six of the eight clubs must approve any new owner. Any three can block approval.

It is not a certainty that the league will approve the new Philadelphia deal. If the eight-man syndicate is turned down it will be because of anti-Philadelphia sentiment among the other owners rather than anything objectionable about the individuals involved.

At an Oct. 12 session in Chicago, the league approved Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, as the new owner, and voted to move the franchise to Kansas City, contingent upon Johnson completing the deal with the House of Mack.

That was the last time the other clubs had a hand in the crazy, mixed-up story that even has the Philadelphia lawyers puzzled. What view they will take tomorrow can not be forecast accurately.

If the league does not okay the new Philadelphia setup, the Macks obviously would have the club on their hands again. Whether they would turn to Johnson's $3,775,000 offer or try to arrange yet another deal remains to be seen.

"What's best for the American League" probably will be the guide rule for the owners.

Long Shot Surprises In English Race

NEW MARKET, England, Oct. 22 (AP)—Mintrel, a 66-1 shot, gladdened the hearts of his British backers today and enriched others around the world as he won the Cambridge Handicap by a neck in a four-way photo finish.

Victory of the lightly backed 2-year-old gave the British bookmakers their biggest pay day in years with virtually all the betting money being placed on a trio of joint favorites. The final Irish Sweepstakes of the season is decided on the race as well.

Three minutes after the finish a photographer showed Mintrel the winner and Queen's Bees second. Another neck back was Marshal Ney. Trailing the front running three by something less than half a length was Turk's Blood, one of the three favorites. The other joint favorites at 9-1, Alphenhorn and Durante, were well back in the 26-horse field.

Ladies To Bowl In Four Matches

West Virginia, Pitt Sellout

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 22 (AP)—The West Virginia-Pitt football game here Saturday has been completely sold out—for the first time in the history of Mountaineer field.

Cassady Named 'Back Of Week'

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 22 (AP)—Although admitting that "everybody wants to be the 'back of the week,'" Howard "Hop" Cassady, Ohio State's frisky halfback, said today he was "just glad I could help the team win the game."

"The" game was Ohio State's 31-14 victory last Saturday over the Wisconsin Badgers, when Cassady plucked a Badger pass out of the air and galloped 88 yards for a touchdown.

That interception-touchdown with Wisconsin leading 7-3 was the beginning of the end for the Badgers and was a big factor in earning "Hop" The Associated Press Back of the Week title.

"It's a great honor," Cassady said when the selection by coaches and sports writers was announced today.

Tube Rose was driven in the class by Mrs. Jones.

The Jones' horse also placed fifth in ladies' fine harness class, with Mrs. Jones driving.

Hamilton Cuts Three From Pitt Squad

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 22 (AP)—Coach Tom Hamilton tonight cut three players from the Pitt football squad after they failed to show up for practice for the second consecutive day.

The players are all juniors: Ed Stowe, a first string left guard; Joe Los, a second-string right guard who had seen considerable action and Gene Steratore, a reserve halfback.

In a prepared statement, Hamilton declared:

"I fail to understand an athlete who can break faith with his teammates. He does not deserve to wear a Pitt uniform . . ."

The players could not be reached for comment. Graduate Manager Frank Carver said he did not know if they are still on the campus.

Stowe is a resident of Somerville, N. J. He is a former New Jersey high school wrestling champ.

Steratore and Los live in Washington County, Pa., near Pittsburgh.

After the dismissals had been announced Hamilton was asked if there had been any friction between him and the players and members of the coaching staff. He replied:

"Absolutely none as far as I know. This came as a complete surprise. The three players I dismissed just didn't show up for practice. You don't do these things in college football or anywhere else. We have standards to maintain, you know."

Hamilton who served as athletic director and gridiron coach at the U. S. Naval Academy before coming to Pitt several years ago, added:

"This is the worst experience I have ever had in athletics."

The firings marked the second occasion Hamilton has shaved the Pitt roster since taking over the head coaching duties of Lowell "Red" Dawson after Pitt lost its first three games.

More than two weeks ago he dismissed halfback Lou Cimaroli as a "disciplinary" measure.

A source close to the squad said friction developed between the player and an assistant coach.

Hamilton, Pitt's athletic director, took over, Dawson was hospitalized with a heart ailment. Dawson is now convalescing but Hamilton will finish out the season as coach.

The firings tonight came as the squad was bucking down for one of its toughest tests of the season, a meeting Saturday with undefeated West Virginia University at Morgantown, W. Va.

Hamilton promoted Harold Hunter, a 200-pound senior, to Stowe's starting position.

Unranked Harper Scores Upset Ring Decision Over Flanagan

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Maurice Harper, unranked and virtually unknown boxer from Oakland, vaulted into the welterweight picture tonight when he scored a 10-round decision over the world's second-ranking contender, Del Flanagan of St. Paul.

Four Colleges Battle For Defense Honor

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Boston College, Mississippi, Navy and Alabama have the best defensive records in major-college football at the mid-point of the 1954 season, NCAA Service Bureau statistics showed today.

Boston College leads in total defense, yielding 134.8 yards a game. Mississippi has the top ground defense, 64.8. Alabama has allowed least scoring, 5.5 points a game. And Navy is threatening in all departments after having the best defensive day of the season against Penn last Saturday.

The Middles gave Penn only 16 yards altogether and a minus 29 yards on the ground, the lowest figure of that kind in two years. That gave them the runnerup position in both total defense with 137.4 and rushing defense with 69.2. Through their line they have given up only 1.85 yards per play, to Boston's 1.90 and Mississippi's 1.94.

Big Pay Day For Winners

NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 22 (AP)—The Cambridge Stakes, won today by Mintrel, and the Cesarewitch, won 10 days ago by French Design, are coupled in one of Britain's biggest betting speers—the autumn double.

It works just like a daily double at a race track except that the races are days apart.

Mintrel and French Design paid one of the biggest prices of any available combination. A minimum price $1.40 ticket was worth $2,58.60.

Four More For Willie

SAN BRUNO, Calif., Oct. 22 (AP)—"Wee Willie" Shoemaker booted home four more winners at Tanforan Racetrack today—for the second day in a row—to boost his season record to 347 victories.

The nation's leading jockey now has an all-time personal mark of 2,014 winners.

The Texas-born rider today won the second race, aboard Marsh's Turk; the third, with Miss Music; the sixth, atop Sahib; and the eighth, with Manheim.

Founder Of Athletics To Attend Meeting

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Connie Mack said today he will attend tomorrow's American League meeting in New York and ask the seven other club owners to approve sale of the A's franchise to a Philadelphia syndicate.

Mack, founder of the franchise here 53 years ago, said he would tell the owners "Philadelphia is my town."

"I am in favor of the sale of the local syndicate," Mack added. "I talked to Roy and Earle (his sons) and we are solidly behind the sale."

Connie's statement came hot on the tail of a report out of New York that the league would reject the syndicate's offer.

Race Horse Put To Death

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Precession, a 10-year-old thoroughbred, was destroyed in full view of the crowd at Jamaica Race Track today after snapping his right foreleg and falling down about five lengths from the finish line. Precession was leading at the time.

Precession and News were head and head at the time of the accident but the race went to Hunters Union. New Liberty, third place finisher, stumbled over Precession but did not fall until the line was crossed.

Neither Jockey Robert Stovall, up on Precession, nor Jockey Sidney Cole, New Liberty's rider, suffered injuries.

Precession, winner of more than $100,000 during his long career, was owned by J. W. Nozlek of Port Chester, N.Y., and was the second betting choice at the start of the mile and 3-16 claiming race.

Rivers Get First Stocked Fish

HARRISBURG, Oct. 27 (AP)—Sections of four rivers have been added to the regular fish stocking program this fall because of the improved condition of the water.

Dr. Russell E. Teague, state health secretary, said today that more than 100 miles of water are being stocked for the first time in many years. He credited the move to success of the state's clean streams program.

The rivers are the North Branch of the Susquehanna, the Shenango, the Schuylkill and the Lehigh.

Teague said that the commission is planting black bass, sunfish, catfish and suckers in these waters for the first time in years.

Repairs Made To Property Badly Damaged By Hurricane

CLEAN-UP work was still going on at the Garfield Frable property in Hamilton Township yesterday as a result of Hazel's recent passage.

Hazel lifted the roof of the garage and put it on the ground; tore the timbers and wall down; but left the car inside unscratched.

The Frables were at home at the time they retreated to the basement when they heard the attached garage falling down, but Hazel let the house alone.

The place was the hardest-hit in the section, located near Muller's Stock Farm.

The accompanying photograph

Representatives," he asserted in urging the election of a GOP Legislature.

He said that his Democratic opponent, Sen. George M. Leader, if elected, "would seek to make a captive of the 1955 and 1957 Legislatures if they were controlled by Democrats."

"If the House and Senate have Democratic majorities under a Democratic administration they would be shackled and bound hand and foot by my boss-controlled opponent."

The sales tax was the chief topic of a statement issued in Harrisburg by Miles Horst, GOP state chairman, who contended that the levy "is much easier on the pocketbook regardless of the walls and crocodile tears from the Democratic candidate for governor."

"The Democratic candidate has protested over and over that he has no plans for a statewide wage tax but so did Mayor (David) Lawrence (of Pittsburgh) before election day," Horst added.

Taking figures on family expenditures gathered by the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in 1950, Horst said an average Pittsburgh family of four with an income of

Prices Mixed; Steels, Rails Close Lower

NEW YORK, Oct. 27 (AP)—Earnings reports and dividend declarations dominated trading in the stock market today and resulted in highly mixed prices.

On balance, the market was slightly lower, but the dip lost significance when viewed against the influence of corporate developments.

The outstanding thing was the lower trend of steels, with U. S. Steel leading the fall, and the higher movement of aircrafts, with Lockheed out in front. Both stocks were influenced by dividends.

Most major divisions were mixed, but lower on balance with the steels were the railroads, rubbers and distillers.

Higher with the aircrafts were the farm implements, radio-televisions, and the airlines, which were strong yesterday as well.

$3,000 a year would pay $30 for the Pittsburgh wage tax and $5.21 for the state sales tax.

"In other words," he said, "the Democrat wage tax extracts nearly six times as much from a $3,000 a year family as the state sales tax."

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a crossword puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your last name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 2. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. There will be the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Scott Speaks At GOP Rally In Milford

MILFORD—At a Republican dinner rally held at Tom Quick Inn here Oct. 23, Herbert Scott, of Elk County, voiced his confidence in the people of the state in backing the Republican candidates in the coming elections.

Mr. Scott, former speaker of the House and head of the committee for the Lloyd Wood gubernatorial campaign, was the principal speaker at the dinner which was sponsored by the Pike County Council of Republican Women.

He stressed the importance of a Republican majority in Congress and in the state to give President Eisenhower the proper backing. He also said that apathy and disunity among the voters were the main obstacles to victory.

William Z. Scott, candidate for State senator, gave an address in which he raised the issue of the loyalty oath bill, which was introduced into the State Senate and passed by a large majority.

However, George M. J. Leader, Democratic candidate for Governor, voted against the bill and headed the opposition to prevent its passage, Scott said. He also charged that Leader refused to take the loyalty oath himself and hid behind the Fifth Amendment.

In addition, Mr. Scott spoke of the importance of reelecting Joseph L. Carrigg of Susquehanna, candidate for Congressman. A letter from Mr. Carrigg was read by E. Y. Stroud, finance chairman, expressing his regret at not being able to be present at the dinner.

August Metz, candidate for the General Assembly, spoke briefly, indicating that he would give his time to Mr. Scott. County Chairman J. Russell Eshback, in his welcome address, spoke of the importance of the national elections and reminded the people of Herbert Hoover's term of office as president, when he was greatly hindered by a Democratic Congress.

Mrs. Gilbert O. Day, president of the Pike County Council, presided at the affair and introduced the speakers. At the conclusion of the dinner, a verse of America was sung, followed by the Flag Salute. The invocation was given by Mrs. Sophie Ludwig, council chaplain.

Mrs. Day introduced the women at the speakers table: Mrs. E. Y. Stroud, Mrs. Russell Eshback, Mrs. William Z. Scott and Mrs. Ludwig. The following committees were in charge: Arrangements, Mrs. Levi Cole; decorations, Mrs. K. M. DePuy and Mrs. James Bryce; tickets, Mrs. R. K. Fields, chairman, Mrs. Ralph Dodd, Mrs. DePuy and Mrs. Bryce; hostesses, Mrs. John Marza, Mrs. Alvin Luckey, Mrs. Calvin Rosenkrans, Mrs. Ross Hunter and Mrs. John Viserta.

YMCA Begins Program At Mount Pocono

THE MONROE County YMCA has launched a number of youth programs in Mount Pocono Fire Hall. Young people of Paradise Valley, Swiftwater and Mount Pocono will be served by this addition to the county program.

Beginning this Friday at 7 p.m. and continuing every other week, a full length feature film and cartoon will be shown to both boys and girls. The in-between weeks will feature club programs for boys in the fire hall and club groups for girls at the Methodist Church. Saturday will be used for hikes, football games, trips and other features.

Vincent O'Bara, a graduate student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, will be director of the Mount Pocono area. Mr. O'Bara is a war veteran and spent his military career in recreation work. He has also worked with city recreation in Johnstown.

Saturday at 10 a.m. the Y Club from Mount Pocono will meet the Barrett Gra-Y at the latter's home field in a game of football.

Berne Cramer is the chairman of the YMCA Committee in the Mount Pocono area.

Bangor Area Board Approves Jointure Of Three Districts

BANGOR—The three-district jointure agreement was formally approved and signed last night by the Bangor Area Joint School Board. Districts affected are Bangor, Roseto and Lower Mt. Bethel Twp. Thirteen directors from the three separate boards signed the agreement. The joint board also set up a $416,000 budget, divided as follows: Bangor, $247,000; Roseto, $50,300; Lower Mt. Bethel, $52,700, with the remaining $66,000 expected to come from tuitions.

The budget was based on 1,234 pupils from kindergarten through 12th grade with 870 from Bangor, 178 from Roseto and 186 from Lower Mt. Bethel.

Tuition rates were set for outside pupils at $244.72 per year for elementary and $350.50 for secondary.

One change in the jointure agreement was approved, Bangor will have five instead of seven members on the joint board. Roseto and Lower Mt. Bethel each will have two. Members will be elected by the separate boards from their own personnel.

Agreement Submitted

A JOINTURE agreement for Portland, East Bangor, Upper Mount Bethel Township and Washington Township has been submitted for approval to the Northampton County Board of Education.

The agreement was presented to R. N. Taylor, county superintendent. The county board will study the proposal before announcing its decision.

The agreement was presented by attorneys Alfred N. Nittle, East Bangor, and Everett Kent, Washington Township. They represented all four boards.

The plan involves construction of a junior-senior high school in the Upper Mount Bethel area at an estimated cost of $1 million.
